Wac Arts uses the arts to empower young people to transcend the barriers they face to opportunity and in so doing, plays its part to reduce persistent inequality in our society. In practice two principles are used to inform our decision-making:

1. Classes and activities are priced at levels to ensure they are genuinely affordable for people and families on low incomes
2. Everyone at Wac Arts pays the same fee regardless of their ability to pay

We recognise however that for some people, even our very low fees may represent a barrier to entry. This policy sets out the financial support available to people with specific circumstances and the eligibility criteria for a Wac Arts bursary.

Introduction

1. Wac Arts endeavours to optimise the use of the Bursary Fund to provide meaningful support to prospective and current members facing financial barriers, which hinder engagement with activities
2. Each financial year, Wac Arts reviews the amount of bursary funding available according to the overall financial health of the organisation
3. All bursaries are awarded on a discretionary basis and Wac Arts is free to decide which applicants should receive bursary funding and the amount they should receive.
